

Growth on Our Time

There are many reasons people cannot join a Bible study like the ones on Sunday mornings and Growth Wednesdays. Whatever the reason, it is my hope to remove these barriers by offering group plans on apps that I enjoy using for my own Bible study.

This is a document put together by Tammy Moon, an Elder at FPC Bartow.

Through The Word

This app format is all audio. You listen to an introduction to a chapter then the Bible chapter is read to you. Because we are doing this in a group you also listen to what other people in the group have to say and have the option to record your own thoughts. As an added blessing, Josh joins the group and gives us his 3 minute thoughts on the chapter as well.

FPC Bartow Grow on Our Time2 Journey 18

This plan was chosen plan to go along with Josh's sermon series on End Times. This plan starts with Daniel and goes into several other books of the Bible including Thessalonians. I've done this plan before and recommended it to my 26 year old son who was asking questions about the end times. If you already signed up for the class before March 13, you are in the first class. Just go to the Through The Word link above to continue. After March 12 you need to join this new group because I discovered there was a 12 person maximum.

YouVersion

Among many things the YouVersion app offers many plans for studying the Bible. I encourage you to explore the app if you have not already by clicking the link above. Unlike the Through The Word app Youversion offers reading in addition to audio for the introduction or devotionals. The response to group discussion is text. I will invite you to plans that I have enjoyed as part of my daily walk with Jesus so we can journey through them together.

How to study the Bible

This is a good plan to help us understand the why and how of daily Bible reading. Making the decision to dedicate time everyday to reading the Bible changed my life because I was setting time apart for God. His word fills my heart and mind and guides my decisions throughout the day. I pray that this plan help you make the same commitment to God.

Making Space for What Matters: 5 Spiritual Habits for Lent

I did this plan the first time during Lent a few years ago. I discovered Lent wasn't just a time to give up things, but to check and make sure I was doing things. I enjoyed this plan because it helped me to focus on God while reading scripture that related to the habits that are not only for Lent but for every day.
